

Do you have a penicillin allergy?

About 9 out of 10 patients with a penicillin-allergy record are not truly allergic when tested.

Penicillins are the recommended treatment for many infections.

Taking alternative antibiotics

- may cause you more side-effects
- has contributed to the rise in antibiotic resistant bacteria
- can be more costly to the NHS

If you are registered to the following practices: (include practice name)

..... then

Ask your Pharmacist about the ALABAMA Trial and how YOU can take part

ALLergy AntiBiotics And Microbial resistAnce